TAX ON LIQUOR, CIGARETS MAY AID SCHOOLS

Proposal Received With Favor by Committee as Temporary Measure.

SEEN AS BASIS FOR BILL

Parochial Issue Will Be Acted on Separately; Legal Action Feared.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O Sept 8—Extension of the present cigaret tax through 1935 and imposition of a levy on prescription liquor may form the basis of the legislative program for financing the schools

Offered as a suggestion by Representative James A Jones Republican of Portage county, the proposal was received with considerable favor by other members of the special joint taxation committee as they scratched their heads last night in an effort to formulate a tentative program

The committee also decided by an 8 to 1 vote it would handle the proposal for state aid to parochial schools as a separate and distinct proposition and not combine it with a program for public school aid

To Be Temporary

While making no formal decision on the matter the committee also indicated its efforts at school financing would be a 'stop-gap' proposition for the present school term, leaving the problem of a permanent program for the special session expected to be called next January

Taxing of prescription liquor as a source of temporary school finance was brought into the picture by Senator Paul P Yoder, Democrat of Montgomery county He said he had been informed that sale of prescription liquor has increased so extensively since the half-pint limit was removed that this would be a good source of revenue He was instructed to ascertain if possible the amount of such liquor now being sold

Yoder said he had been informed that one chain drug store company now is ordering from 90 to 95 gallons of liquor a month Single prescriptions he said he had been told amounted to as much as 30 pints

Litigation Feared

Decision of the committee to make parochial school support stand by itself was said to have been prompted by fear that if it were attached to the public school support measure both would be jeopardized by litigation to test the constitutionality of the state aiding the parochials

T. J. Duffy of Columbus, one of the leaders in the fight for parochial school aid was said to have consented to the committee's action

As the situation now stands it is expected that some specific tax levied exclusively for parochial school aid will be suggested

Several members of the committee in a poll by Chairman D J Gunsett in an effort to formulate a tentative program indicated they might be willing to support some kind of a sales tax if other revenue sources cannot be agreed upon The opinion was virtually unanimous that a sales tax will have to be resorted to in any program of permanent school financing

Particularly would this be true, they said if the proposed constitutional 10 mills tax limitation on real estate is approved at the November election The general consensus was that a 5 per cent general sales tax with few or no exemptions would be necessary

NRA CODE TO BRING MAJOR MINE CHANGES

New Deal Will Eliminate Pay Cutting To Meet Stiff Competition.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Sept 8—Revolutionary changes in the bituminous coal industry are foreshadowed in the recovery administration's code of fair competition for the soft coal mine

The new deal will strike miner and operator alike

When the code is approved—which is likely will be early next week—the day of cutting miners pay to meet cut throat competition by the operators will be gone

The pick and shovel miner will be guaranteed a minimum basic wage tentatively ranging from $5 63 a day in Montana to $3 a day in Alabama

The miner will have the right to join a union he pleases or no union at all He will not be allowed to work more than 40 hours a week

No company store be miner have to deal at the company store or live in company houses And the company has to pay all his pay in cash every two weeks

The big change will mean just as much to the operator

He will be forced to join fellow operators in district in creating marketing agencies Those agencies will fix the price of coal

Division code authorities will see that there is no price cutting under the scale fixed by the agency

Many 'unfair practices' such as secret rebates to purchasers and shipping coal before it is bought will be banned

A public hearing on the code will be held Monday morning.

STRIKE OF CAR MEN AVERTED

NRA Credited With Halting Threat of Walkout in Cleveland.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND Sept 8 Strike of greater Cleveland's street car employes, originally called for today, has been averted at least temporarily through intervention of the national recovery administration and city officials

The executive board of the street car men's union last night called off indefinitely a strike of nearly 3 000 employes which would have tied up the public transportation of half a million car riders The board will meet Saturday for a final decision

The Cleveland Railway company operating under the NRA refused the demands upon which the strike vote was based- union recognition and a wage boost but the indefinite delay was arranged after General Hugh S Johnson and officials of the NRA's national labor board requested through Mayor Ray T Miller a postponement

Increased speed in preparing the NRA transit code in Washington and efforts of labor department and national labor representatives were expected to relieve the strike situation

The executive board of the international street car men's union also entered the picture with a recommendation to the Cleveland local that strike action be postponed The board asked 'a week's adjournment of any dissension" since the recovery administration had made its request for such delay

F.D.R ASKS COUNTRY TO HELP DESTITUTE

Says Government Is Just Acting on Emergency Relief Basis.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept 8—Summoning the country to contribute for the relief of the destitute, President Roosevelt at the same time today arraigned some areas which lately have not done their share and have been coming hat in hand to the federal government

His extemporaneous talk was in opening the third annual mobilization for human needs conference in the White House grounds, one declaration being that the people are better able to support charity now than in years immediately past

Responding, Frank B Kellogg—former secretary of state — announced the mobilizers were about to undertake a campaign of surpassing importance for human needs in every community of the country

Mr Roosevelt emphasized the action of the federal government in giving relief appropriations was on an emergency basis and that he expected the government eventually to be relieved of this responsibility.

"The whole period we are now going through will in the end get back to individual initiative and responsibility he said.

Fire Prevention Week To Be Observed in Marion

Fire prevention week, beginning Oct. 8 as proclaimed today by President Roosevelt, will be observed here, according to Fire Chief T. J. McFarland.

Local observance will consist of a fire inspection of the business district and a program of educational publicity.

The President's proclamation, as given by The Associated Press, follows.

"It has been a commendable custom for the President of the United States to request the annual observance of fire prevention week throughout the country. It is a week set aside for the purpose of informing the public of the dangers of fire to life and property. Fires which are largely preventable take a cruel toll of many lives and destroy property exceeding $400,000,000 in value each year. Of late, progress has been made in reducing the nation's fire loss, and this fact should encourage continuous vigilance and alertness so necessary to decrease the hazards of fire.

"Now, therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the week beginning Oct. 8, 1933, to be observed as fire prevention week. To prevent our enormous waste by fire, the cooperation of all citizens is requested and the organizations, groups and individuals interested in fire prevention are asked to take the leadership in instructing the public in the simple precautionary measures advocated as fire prevention safeguards."

HUSBANDS SEEK ISLE OF SILENCE

By International News Service

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—There is a report that a number of men are seeking homesites on Wild mountain hoping to live peacefully ever after with their ever-loving spouses.

It seems you can't talk on Wild mountain or if you do no one can hear you.

The mountain near here is a strange nature freak that has not yet been explained. Deadly air currents menace any flier who crosses in the vicinity of the mountain top. Radio signals cannot be received on the mountain.

And last but not least, it is extremely difficult to carry on a conversation because voices do not carry.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN MONDAY

Half-Day Session Scheduled for Grade and Advanced Pupils.

Pupils in the elementary grades of the Marion public schools will report for classes Monday at 8:15 a. m. and the junior and senior high school students will report at 8. Supt. George A. Bowman announced today.

All students will be in school only until noon Monday. The junior and senior high school students will run through their schedules in shortened periods and be assigned work for regular classes on Tuesday.

All of the elementary buildings will house grades one to six inclusive except the North Main street building which will have additional seventh and eight grade classes.

The seventh grade which has been conducted at the Mark street school for the last two years, will be discontinued this year, and the pupils who would have enrolled there will go to either Central or Vernon Junior High schools.

This change was made Supt Bowman pointed out to make it possible for students to enroll in the home arts and manual arts classes at the two junior high school buildings.

School officials may find it necessary to transfer the eighth grade from the North Main Street school to Central after the enrollment is taken Monday. Any seventh or eighth grade pupils at the North Main street building who wish to avail themselves of the household and manual arts courses offered at Central may transfer to that school, Supt. Bowman said.

Parents and students have been urged again to buy school books before the opening of school in order to avoid congestion next week. In order that those who have not made their purchases yet may do so, Harding High school will remain open until 5 p. m. Saturday.

Only necessary repairs and cleaning have been done on the city schools this summer, officials said. Under the present program of curtailed expenses, janitors were not employed full time this summer, and the only work that was done was reroofing and furnace repairs at several of the buildings, in addition to thorough cleaning of all of the buildings.

Something To Cheer

This week is just too perfect. An extra day's vacation on Monday and a big circus on Thursday. There's another "break" coming too, for the clock-punchers. Christmas, don't laugh, it's only a matter of about 16 weeks away, and New Years come on Mondays this year. After 1933 there won't be any double holidays for a long long time.

They See The Fair

The Marion group of Boy Scouts who attended the World's Century Fair last week must have had the time of their lives, if they visited all the places represented in the stacks of literature they brought home. One of them said the other day he didn't believe he'd be rested up in time to go to the next World's fair.

CLAIRE WINDSOR, BLONDE FILM STAR, CHARGED WITH "FORGOTTEN" LOVE THEFT

Few persons, on or off the screen have been the subject of so much romantic gossip as beautiful Claire Windsor, blond screen star, who is now fighting a $100,000 suit brought against her at Los Angeles by Mrs. Marion Reade, of Oakland, Calif., who charges the beauteous Claire stole the affections of her husband, Alfred Reade, Jr. But, according to Reade, he doesn't remember having any affections pilfered, nor does he admit being enamored of Miss Windsor. The glamorous star, shown above in four typical studies, also seems to have forgotten that not so long ago she was supposed to be engaged to Tommy Manville, Jr., asbestos heir, with whom she is shown in oval.

New Way to Bathe Ends Body Odor Instantly!
Leaves No M. S. (Medicine Smell)
It takes more than a strong smell to wash away body odor—it takes a fine penetrating lather that goes deep into the pores and completely rinses out the stale perspiration curds.
Curds! Yes, curdled soap! Most ordinary toilet soaps curdle in hard water. Then the curdled soap gets into the pores and dams up the ill-smelling stale perspiration. Body odor results.
Only Kirk's Castile lathers abundantly, even in hard, cold water. A pure vegetable oil soap, it mixes with the stale perspiration curds, loosens them, then sweeps them away—the only real way to end body odor.
"Marvelous for Our Hard Water"—says citizen of Salina, Kansas, where water is hardest in the state.
Get Kirk's Castile today. It's odorless. And because it's gentler than average toilet soaps—an exceptional bargain. Be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

Self-Government in Cuba.

Self-government under the frown of a battleship's guns is a trying business. President Roosevelt's orders to Secretary of the Navy Swanson to proceed directly to Havana and the assembling of a formidable battle fleet in waters adjacent to Cuba are parts of a demonstration to turbulent Cubans that Uncle Sam has the whip hand. Cubans can see the battleships; they cannot see a force of marines held in readiness to rush to their island, but most of them probably are aware of what is imminent.

These things all can be explained logically in terms of treaties, international law, precedent and the various other devices by which governmental actions are rationalized. It is obvious enough that this government is obligated to fulfill its obligations under the Platt amendment. It is not so obvious to many Cubans, however, that the amendment is a justifiable agreement. There probably is more good sense than ungrounded alarm in the fear of some Americans in Havana that they may be victims of violence.

Unquestionably, future action in connection with the recent revolutionary movement will be determined largely by the sight of formidable units of the United States navy lying off Havana and other Cuban cities. Leaders of the government will realize that they can go so far and no further. They are acutely aware of what would happen if those guns were to belch forth shells and if marines were to be landed in their territory. There would be an effective end to self-government then in the interests of order.

Americans devoutly hope that it will not be necessary to go further than the threat of intervention. Even while hoping, however, they share with informed Cubans apprehension growing out of realization that the island is the potential scene of violence and bitterness, with soldiers of a foreign government standing ready to take control of its affairs.

Compromise.

Interest in the issue between Henry Ford and the national recovery administration probably is more intense than that in any single phase of the recovery program. Oddly enough, the millions of spectators who are waiting to see how the matter will be settled are not taking sides, although there is reason to believe that they are reasonably aware of the arguments used.

Mr. Ford's astuteness in any problem involving public opinion is generously acknowledged, even by his enemies. In the present case he is demonstrating complete possession of that well proved faculty. His most recent move, an announcement of an increase in wages, will do much to offset whatever stigma Mr. Ford may have received by refusing to sign up formally under the code for his industry.

There is, however, little satisfaction in pursuing speculation along this line. Neither the Ford enterprise nor the national recovery administration has anything to gain by a running fight. The conclusion to be desired by both parties as well as spectators is a compromise. It is heartening to hear rumors that this is not an impossibility. Certainly to take stock in such rumors lays no tax on the imagination.

It should be possible for the recovery administration to satisfy its demands and for Mr. Ford to satisfy his demands through an adjustment of differences. Obviously, the industrialist does not object to the theory that good wages and wide employment create buying power; he was one of the first important employers to espouse such a policy. The things he does object to, such as partial loss of his identity under a code administered by an organization to which he does not belong, are minor in importance to the main purpose of NRA—better wages and more employment.

The good general knows how to retreat as well as to stand pat. It will be a demerit on the record of the recovery administration if it does not find a way to effect a compromise with America's most famous industrialist.

The Whip.

A New York state grand jury, deeply concerned over the increasing number of juvenile offenders, urged public flogging for young criminals the other day. The jury's decision is typical of many which have been made recently.

They bear a common likeness in the faultiness of the logic on which they are based. It is this, in effect: It is a mistake for young people to adopt the lives of criminals; therefore, they must be punished Without exception, the conclusion ignores the cause of the prevalence of crime among young people.

The cause is not ignored because it is obscure, but because it is disagreeable to face. Its recognition entails recognition, also, of social responsibility and of circumstances which will go on whether or not their victims are flogged publicly, penned up in prisons, turned over to so-called reform schools, or merely ignored.

Children reared in an environment where successful practitioners of crime are the rule rather than the exception will tend to become criminals. They are not free agents in the matter; no reasonable person can hold them responsible for doing the only thing they have learned how to do.

To deal with a young offender of this type in the manner being recommended so often might possibly satisfy the desire to meet violence with violence, but it couldn't possibly prevent the prevalence of crime among young people who have no other pattern on which to fashion their lives. Always excepting the type which turns to crime in preference to any other pursuit, it would be the same as punishing an animal for doing what it had been taught to do.

America is deeply concerned with the problem of crime. From that concern may come eventual some sensible measures. In responses being made currently, however, it is distressingly plain that the commonest idea is to deal violently with the evident of a bad situation and let the situation take care of itself.

September List.

Vermont, first of seven states to vote on ratification of the 21st amendment this month, has gone into the wet column with a 2-to-1 majority of anti-prohibitionists They have gained 5 more than the first of the last 12 states needed to bring about ratification.

Maine, one of the "homes of prohibition" goes to the polls next Monday. The following Tuesday, Colorado, Maryland and Minnesota vote. A week later, Sept. 19, Idaho and New Mexico will vote. There is little noise in anticipation of the occasion. Wets, apparently, believe that no particular effort is needed to carry the September states. Drys, if they are working, are going about it quietly.

The voting in Maine will come closer to that anticipated by the founding fathers for constitutional conventions than that established in any other state. It will be remembered that the state supreme court held it unconstitutional for conventions to be composed of delegates elected at large and bound to vote on one or the other side of a question.

Consequently, delegates next Monday will be elected theoretically on a basis of their qualifications to hear both sides of the argument and to vote their impartial judgment. It will be interesting to see whether or not this modified agrarian victory will be the means of making Maine the first state to bolt at a wet identity. During the whole course of discussion concerning what makes a truly representative convention it has been acknowledged that election of delegates by districts gives prohibitionists an edge over election of delegates-at-large.

Assuming, however, that Maine will yield to the national impetus of repeal and that the other September states will do likewise, the observer becomes conscious of the fact that when October's bright, blue weather salutes Jack Frost 31 states will have voted to ratify the proposed amendment Five more and the job will be done.

Helplessness.

Devastation in the Rio Grande valley, predicted a week in advance when another hurricane lashed out of the Caribbean, demonstrates painfully the helplessness of people tied to the land, as most people must be, with property.

Undoubtedly, vast damage was averted by the warning, one of the few that have been possible despite elaborate systems of observation. But farmers could not protect their crops. They could not rebuild their houses and barns. There was not time to construct places of refuge.

The true extent of the damage cannot be ascertained definitely for many days. Americans who deplore the fact that hundreds of thousands of Chinese can be killed in a flood or a famine without arousing much more than a rumor are obliged to realize that in one of the richest regions of their country facilities of communication can be obliterated in a few hours by the fury of a storm.

By this time people in all regions subject to the lash of Caribbean storms have been warned of what may happen on short notice. Florida, lying in the direct path of many of the Caribbean-brewed storms, can do little more than await whatever may come. On the basis of chance, it believes that its property will not be damaged to any considerable extent. But history has shown that there is a chance. The year 1933 has seen great storms sweeping northward out of the cradle of hurricanes in this hemisphere.

Well Investigated.

Governor White's promise to investigate the activities of investigating committees which he suspects haven't investigated anything besides their power to spend public money seems to complete the customary cycle of investigation in popular government.

First, there must be something to investigate The current state assembly has selected building and loan associations, weak school districts, state guarantee of bank deposits, the state police bill's relation to the secretary of state, the highway department, school books, practices of issuing securities, workmen's compensation and economies in public schools, among others. It is a formidable list in its entirety, yet out of more than a dozen committees it is reported that only one has accomplished anything of note and only two or three have given the appearance of trying to do anything.

Therefore, there must be an investigation of the investigators and, who knows, perhaps even an investigation of the investigators of the investigators Naturally, every step in the process costs taxpayers something, either in cash or in time. When it is all over, the conclusion probably will be that someone was sadly inefficient or perhaps deceitful—so what?

Comment of the Press

THE TACTICS OF GANDHI.

If Mahatma Gandhi has the best interests of the lowly classes of India at heart he might well heed the importunities of his friends that he cease his political activities and work more directly with and for the masses. He surely has realized that it is useless for him to continue his campaigns against Great Britain and each time end in prison, where he is forced to endanger his life through fasting in order to obtain liberty anew.

It would be better, it seems, if Gandhi were to cease his attacks on the established order of things and devote his remaining years to educating the low castes in advance of the day when they might be granted the things for which he now fights Certainly it would be better to have them ready for this new freedom, able to enjoy it, and in position to make the most of it rather than to have it given to them now, when they would not understand its import not be able to profit by its wider latitude.—The Seed of politics.—Ohio State Journal.

GOLDEN BANTAM DAYS.

The Golden Bantam days are here, a season worthy of poetic commentary, the most delicious of the year.

When Western Minnesota celebrates another annual Sweet Corn Festival at Ortonville today it will be an advent in which the entire state can take part, in spirit if not in actual presence. The homage to this epicurean product of the field is universal. Every one with a set of sound teeth with which to gnaw a cob knows and delights in the delectations of sweet corn.

Man has been the gastronomic gainer by Nature's whim. Here is a corn which because it has lost the faculty of converting sugars into starches has become one of the favorite table delicacies of a nation. By the wonder working alchemy of nature a fodder has been changed into a vegetable fit for a king. The European smiles at the barbaric American's fondness for corn on the cob, but once let him set his teeth into an ear of Golden Bantam and he is an instant convert.—St. Paul Dispatch.

Nasal Polyp Should Be Removed.

"What is a nasal polyp?" "Is it a serious disturbance and will it develop into cancer?" "I have been told that I have a nasal polyp and an operation has been advised. Is it possible to cure the disturbance without an operation?"

These are some of the questions asked me in a letter I received from one who has this trouble. Of course, I am glad to reply as best I can.

A nasal polyp is a growth found in the nose. It is not cancer. It is usually traced to some chronic inflammation of the lining of the nose or of the nasal sinuses.

The polyp grows slowly, very gradually increasing in size. If untreated, it may become so big as to completely obstruct the nasal passage. Sometimes the sufferer complains of loss of smell. The growth presses on the nasal nerves, interfering with their function.

Mouth breathing is another complaint of sufferers from this affliction. The victim breathes through his mouth instead of his nostrils and may believe this is due to adenoids. He is amazed to learn after being examined by a physician that the trouble is caused by a nasal polyp In children most cases of mouth breathing are due to adenoids, and nasal polyps are rarely found in children.

As is true of many other growths, nasal polyps can only be gotten rid of by surgical measures. There is no medicine or ointment known to medical science that will remove the tumor mass. It must be incised and entirely removed if permanent relief is to be had.

Let me assure you that the operation is a simple one. It is performed in the doctor's office and usually there is no need of going to a hospital. The operation is performed under local anesthesia and there is little pain and discomfort during or after the procedure.

Most persons dread the word "operation." When told that this is the only cure they postpone the necessary treatment. This is an unwise attitude to take, certainly as regards nasal polyp.

The victim of nasal polyp is usually susceptible to sore throats, colds, grippe and other respiratory diseases. If for no other reason, they should never be neglected. Neglect may lead to some serious and permanent disability.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

Mrs. A.S. Q.—What tonic would be best for a child of two and a half years of age who is just recovering from whooping cough? It is difficult to give the pure cod liver oil in this case.

Mrs. L.B.T. Q.—About two years ago I had a varicose ulcer on my left leg above the ankle. The condition has healed, but there seems to be a breaking out around the outside, extending over quite an area. I have tried to clear this up without results. There is no pain, but there is a tired feeling and at times there is a disturbance resembling water blisters. What would you advise in this case?

A.—The present condition may be due to eczema. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question —Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Highlights of Ohio History

BY J. H. GALBRAITH

THE FIRST FIVE REPUBLICANS OF OHIO.

The history of the organization of the Republican party in Ohio is very accurately recorded. Everywhere there was setting in a coalescing movement of the opponents of slavery into a common organization and in Ohio it resulted in a call of persons interested in such a movement to meet in Columbus. The call was printed in the Ohio State Journal Feb. 13, 1854. The primary object was to frame a protest against the violation of compromises between free and slave states, but directly from this meeting came the first proposition to form a new party. It was called, however, "the anti-Nebraska convention." It was not until the next year that the name of Republican party, elsewhere devised, was used.

Five men were chosen by the 1854 convention, however, to correspond with persons of like political thought in other states with a view to forming a new national party, of anti-slavery belief. The five were: Henry B. Carrington of Columbus and J. H. Baker of Chillicothe, both Whigs; Joseph R. Swan of Columbus and Rufus P. Spalding of Cleveland, both Democrats, and Dr. J. B. Coulter of Columbus, a free-soiler. As the outcome of this meeting, the first Republican state convention was held in Ohio in 1855.

Daily Talk to Parents

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH.

GRANTING INDEPENDENCE

One of the most difficult moments in rearing children is the time when they first show their independence

Parents know from the outset that the time must come when their children will step out for themselves. They may even make a resolution that when it comes they will put no obstacles in the way of the child's freedom.

But they forget during the years when their babies are little and seem so helpless and dependent. They are so close to the picture that they do not even see that every day the baby of the day before is gone and a new and older one in its place.

They are taken quite unaware when the tiny thing they have been cherishing one day states an opinion, claims a privilege or asserts a right which shows that he is conscious of his own identity and no longer a part of his parents.

It requires great self-control and some sacrifice of personal feeling on the part of the parents to recognize the inevitable at this stage. If they refuse to acknowledge the child's right to his own point of view and answer, "We know best, you are too young," they may quash the child's claim for the moment, but they will be laying up trouble for the future.

It is wiser to meet the situation differently.

If they give the child a hearing, and try to get his point of view, they will at least be establishing a contact which will be valuable in the increasingly numerous situations of the same kind which the future will bring.

Nature gave the birds an instinct stronger than mother love. When the fledgeling is ready to fly the mother pushes it out of the nest. We tend to hold ours in it even when the nest grows too small.

A Washington Daybook

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, Sept. 8—President Roosevelt's selection of his secretary of the interior for the highly important post of oil administrator gives a new argument for those Washington observers who believe that Harold L. Ickes is the key man in the chief executive's official family

HAROLD ICKES

With this new job, Ickes, from the standpoint of actual power, stands in a class to himself. He is not only a virtual dictator of the vast and far-flung petroleum industry, but also administers the $3,300,000,000 public works program.

He is a Republican of the progressive type, who back in 1920 strayed off the regular Republican reservation. In that year he was a delegate-at-large from Illinois to the Republican national convention.

He was for Frank O. Lowden until he withdrew and then on the final allot voted for Hiram Johnson. When Harding was nominated, he was one of the very few who voted "no" on the motion to make the nomination unanimous.

Ickes contended at the time that the nomination of Harding violated every principle for which the progressive Republicans had stood ever since 1912. He broke with his party and came out in support of the Democratic nominees. Cox and Roosevelt.

Ickes went even further than that for Roosevelt. In advance of the Democratic convention, he urged upon George E. Brennan, the Illinois Democratic leader, that the best man who could be named for vice president on the Democratic ticket was Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

Brennan supported and worked for Roosevelt in the convention for that nomination.

In the 1928 campaign, Ickes was inactive, but he voted for Alfred Smith. In the presidential campaign of last year, he was chairman of the western progressive headquarters and worked actively for the Democratic ticket in the western states.

All of which makes it interesting to speculate on the probable political future for Ickes. It is hinted constantly in Washington that President Roosevelt has plans of his own for the Democratic party He hopes, it is said, to bring together the liberal elements of both parties by next election time.

His cabinet appointments and overtures to the progressives would seem to indicate this.

Ickes may figure large in the political picture of 1936.

The Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND.

HOW TO GET RID OF A HUSBAND.

Of course, the most popular way to get rid of a husband (in America) is to persuade him to buy you a ticket to Reno, pay your hotel bills and lawyer's fees and settle your gambling debts, while you are waiting to tell the judge what a "fiend-in-human-form" he is.

But, if you dislike crossing the Rockies, a simpler and much less bothersome method is to bore him to suicide—or another woman's arms. Nagging, whining, fighting at bridge and wasting money are not enough to send some husbands skidding.

Start right out, by raising a racket or making a scene every time he tries being pleasant and polite to a pretty woman Many a man never knows that he is interesting in other women, until his wife accuses him of it.

Fill the house with expensive "period" or uninviting modernistic furniture, designed only to be looked at and not to be sat on. Never by any chance have a comfortable stuffed chair around—or anything for a man to put his feet on.

Always come down to breakfast filled with the Spirit of '76. There is nothing like a stimulating battle to start a man's nerves jittering, upset his stomach and keep him thinking of you—and his bachelor days—all day long.

When he staggers home, all tired out, evenings, always have the home full of jolly, bridge-playing, gin-drinking women. And spring a bright surprise by telling him you've laid out his evening clothes and booked him for a dinner-dance.

Hang fondly around his neck when he wants to read or nap or get out for a game of golf, and keep asking him if he loves you, why he loves you, and whether he loves you "any more."

When he's telling a story, making an after-dinner speech or trying to be the life of the party, always catch his eye and make him feel that he's making a fool of himself. This will make him self-conscious and inspire him to love you as a doughboy loves a sergeant.

Correct his English, criticize his manners, censor his drinks and smokes and insist on picking out his hats and his haberdashery for him. He had only been taking care of himself for 20 or 30 years before you met him—so he needs a guardian.

Always be perfectly frank and honest with him about his little failings. What does a woman marry a man for, if it's not the privilege of telling him exactly what she thinks of him—"for his own good"

Always put him through a thorough questionnaire, when he comes in 20 minutes later. This will make him feel just like a "trusty" back from parole. And keep reminding him that he owes you all his devotion—because every man adores a creditor.

If he doesn't elope with a chorus girl and give you grounds for a divorce after you've followed these little rules, I can tell you lots more ways of getting a man's goat and becoming a "deserted wife."

Miss Mary Katherine Campbell, 18, of Columbus, won the title "Miss America," for the second time in two years at the Atlantic City beauty contest.

Miss Ruth Darst of Marion and Harry F. Burnette of Portland, Me., formerly of Marion, were united in marriage at the Epworth M. E. parsonage by Dr. Jesse Swank.

The second round of the Marion Country club golf tournament was completed, leaving J. H Evans, P. E. Studebaker, Ralph Rawlings, and T. R. Allen as contestants in the semi-finals.

Miss Edna Katherine Headley and Edwin Harrold, both of Marion, were united in marriage by Rev. M. L. Buckley at the Central Christian parsonage on Bellefontaine avenue.

One death was reported from Dublin, Ga., and another from Kenosha, Wis. There are scattered cases in Wisconsin, but there was nothing in the situation to alarm residents of the Badger state.

could have resulted from an accidental fall.

Dr. Charles M. Richards, X-ray specialist, was prevented many times answering questions designed to bring out possibility that four fractures in Mrs. Lamson's skull might have been caused by a fall against the enameled wash basin in the bathroom of her home, where her nude body was found.

Prosecuting attorneys contended the question of accident was for the jury to decide. Judge R. R. Syer, sustained them. However, Defense Attorney E. M. Rea succeeded in getting from Dr. Richards testimony the fractures could have been caused by one blow from some particular sort of instrument.

Rea produced the iron pipe exhibited by the state and Dr. Richards said it "seemed unlikely" the skull breakage could have been caused by such an instrument, but added similar fracture could have been made by one blow, or by many blows concentrated on one point.

Dr. Stanley Kneeshaw of San Jose, testified the fractures could have come from one contact. He expressed belief they could not have been caused by one blow from the pipe but might have been made by several such blows if all were struck successively in the same way.

Lamson previously contradicted suggestions in the prosecution testimony his wife had sought to evade his affectionate advances and denied having told Frank Taylor, an associate who testified for the state, there had been discord in his home.

straight course over the ocean again to shorten this distance.

The planes passed over Key West at 5 a. m., reached a point just off Cuba three hours later and had crossed over the revolution-gripped island and on past Grand Cayman within the next three hours.

Naval operation officers declined to confirm reports that the flight was intended originally as a 2,000-mile non-stop journey to the Canal Zone. The same officials, however, said there was a possibility that if gas supplies were sufficient and all was well the flight might be made non-stop.

The flying armada, commanded by Lieut. Commander Donald H. Carpenter and carrying a crew of 36 officers and men, shoved off yesterday on what was announced as a "regularly scheduled" flight to the Canal Zone.

But the secrecy that covered the departure, the presence of Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics, and the refusal of both officers and men to give any information as to the squadron's schedule of flight led to reports the planes are away on something more than a "regular scheduled flight."

Nor is Coco Solo believed to be the final objective of the squadron. At Coco Solo, reinforced by the second division of six planes that left Norfolk last June, it is held possible Commander Carpenter may again take the air to roar away on a 3,000 mile flight to San Diego.

Beyond San Diego lies 2,200 miles of open sea—and Hawaii. With 7,200 miles behind them, the navy fliers could present a real challenge to the flight of General Italo Balbo.

But all this is only conjecture. However, it has been known here for some time that the navy department was contemplating some sort of a flying test that was to be far above the ordinary.

FOUR ADMIT GUILT IN DETROIT SLAYING

Victim Kidnaped Then Slain "Because He Was In The Way."

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 8—Four young men, one of whom police said declared he opened fire because his victim was "in the way," were held today for the kidnaping and brutal slaying last night of Joseph Nesbitt, automobile service company manager, who was found dying in a ditch along the highway in adjoining Macomb county this morning.

The four, who gave their names as Robert Razzo, 23, and Robert Buffa of Detroit, Douglas Whitsitt of Toronto, Ont., and Charles Davidson of Porth Huron, Mich., said they obtained $87 from their victim, Razzo, police said, admitted the shooting.

Nesbitt died in a Mt. Clemens hospital at 4 a. m.

Nesbitt was kidnaped at 9 p. m. as he sat in his car in Detroit. Whitsitt told police the four last night decided to "get a car" and selected Nesbitt as the victim. He said they climbed into Nesbitt's car and drove into Macomb county, where they robbed him, and where Razzo opened fire without warning. Pushing their victim into a ditch, he told police, they sped away in the car.

Detroit policemen arrested the four in Nesbitt's car shortly after 4 a. m. They offered no resistance.

Nesbitt came here from Warren, O., several years ago, and is survived by the widow and a stepdaughter. Burial probably will be in Warren.

MOLEY IN DEFENSE OF "BRAIN TRUST"

By The Associated Press

BEDFORD SPRINGS, Pa., Sept. 8—The so-called "brain trust," Raymond Moley says, has not been a "dominant" influence in shaping the policies of the Roosevelt administration.

Scoffing at the idea that the President is receiving too much "academic" advice, the recently-resigned assistant secretary of state asserts that in working out his program, Mr. Roosevelt "has observed a wise balance of assistance."

He addressed the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Electric association.

car and electric railway employes, telephoned from Washington to Fred Schultz, president of the Cleveland street car men's union, also asking postponement of the strike until the [illegible] is approved.

Mayor Miller, in a conference of union leaders and company officials which preceded the decision to postpone the strike indefinitely, declared both General Johnson and Senator Robert Wagner of New York, chairman of the labor board, had urged postponement.

"General Johnson told me to point out," the mayor said, "that strikes do not carry out the spirit of the NRA."

Johnson also told Miller in a telephone conversation that Edward McGrady, assistant administrator for labor, who recently was appointed assistant secretary of labor, was being sent to Cleveland.

"We put Eddie McGrady on this and he got it called off until tomorrow. He's going out there and he hasn't failed to settle one yet," the NRA administrator told the Cleveland mayor.

In the negotiations between the union and the railway company, Schultz declared the workers' demand for a wage increase of 25 per cent could be compromised if union recognition is granted.

George D. McIlwin, president of the railway company, in a statement refusing the union demands, declared that "they (the demands) are above and beyond requirements of the NRA."

New York Strike Settlement Made

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—A settlement was reached today after an all-night conference in NRA headquarters which will enable 15,000 striking embroidery workers to return to work Monday.

Glover A. Whalen, NRA city chairman and strike mediator, said the employers had agreed to the demand for a 35-hour, five-day week and the minimum wage scale asked by the strikers.

Whalen said the settlement eliminated a "condition far worse than the sweatshop." Child labor and unsanitary conditions had been done away with, he said.

Of the 15,000 on strike, 10,000 do piece work in their homes, many of them living in tenements, while the number of workers immediately affected by the strike was relatively small. It was said the stoppage of production in embroidery trimmings ultimately would have thrown nearly 100,000 out of work.

halting, he patted his revolver with his free hand.

"I talk with this now," he jeered through working lips. "Maybe once you go to church, eh? Maybe you remember some little prayer, eh? Well, for me, I do not think about that any more, but I have the good heart. I give you one minute, and then I count—not that nice fresh money—but one, two, three dead on the floor."

Dollaire meant it—of that there was no doubt in Colin's mind. Dollaire was in a maniacal rage—and Dollaire had the drop on them. O'Mara had intended to do to Dollaire!

THE end? Colin was conscious of strange mingling sensations and thoughts rushing in a flood upon him that he could not analyze. Bewilderment? Fear? Numbed resignation? He saw Germaine—and she smiled wistfully at him.

He was alive, full of vitality at this instant—what would death be like the next? The muzzle of Dollaire's revolver was like a magnet from which one's eyes could not be dragged away. Would one both see the flash and hear the report? Which of the two, light or sound, traveled the faster? Was there——

He heard Buck O'Mara speaking again—but there was something sharp, imperative in O'Mara's voice now:

"Listen to me, Dollaire. You've got a gun on us, so I'll come across. That money's phony all right, and we had it in for you for what you did to some of our boys down the river, but you're not so hot even now. You don't get out of this unless I say so; but, as it stands, if you want a rain check on your own life I'll give it to you now, and we'll call it all off for tonight.

"A shot fired down here'll mean just one thing. It'll be the signal my mob is waiting for to come aboard and clean you up. If any of us three go out, you'll go out too. Don't kid yourself about that. But we're willing to walk out of here to the boats with our hands up and push off. What do you say? I'm not bluffing. I'm showing you my cards face up on the table. A royal straight flush, Dollaire. Take a look at it!"

Colin's brain was in riot as Dollaire stood there glaring, licking hungrily now at his lips. Would Buck O'Mara get away with this? Buck O'Mara was lying, of course—not as to what would follow on the heels of a shot being fired down here, for that was true, but as to the bargain he was offering Dollaire.

He had not the slightest intention of keeping his share of that bargain, even if Dollaire agreed—he was merely seizing upon what seemed to offer the only chance to escape from the immediate peril in which he himself stood.

NO MATTER what happened here in the cabin, neither Dollaire nor one of his crew would escape tonight. That was certain. But would Dollaire fall for this? It meant his, Colin's, life, too. Would Dollaire——

"Bah!" jerked out Dollaire. "I take a look—and I laugh. It is like the money, your cards—they come from the same place! You get some boys on them boats, and they come out to fight, and steal my Alouette, eh? Well, me, I got big crew that fight plenty good. I show you! I finish with you first. When I shoot that is the signal, eh? Well, my fellows they hear that quick, too. So!"—he grinned ferociously—"I give that signal—like this!"

There was a flash—and the roar of the report in the confined space dinned in Colin's ears. He was conscious that Buck O'Mara, anticipating the shot by a split second, had flung himself out of his chair to the floor.

But neither Benny Malone nor himself had been so prescient. Another crash—another report. What sounded like a deep sigh came from Benny Malone. Seconds that seemed to span eternity! Dollaire, like some great ape, was crouched there on the topmost step of the companionway, still firing down into the lighted cabin.

There was one chance, only one. Colin flung himself from the settee, leaped for the low-hung lamp that was scarcely two yards away, and brought it smashing down, a shattered thing upon the table.

The cabin was in darkness.

"Good boy!" Buck O'Mara's voice called out—and from the floor came the flash now of Buck O'Mara's gun.

But the companionway was empty now. The slam of the cabin door proclaimed the fact that Dollaire was gone.

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge, Feeling Herself Benumbed by the Hypnotic Glare of Lee Chow, Is Grateful for the Timely Intervention of Her Father.

THERE WAS no hint of command in my father's calm voice as he called through the door of my little study that he needed my help. But his demand for admittance—for his words of course meant that—was like the lash of a whip to my benumbed faculties.

For they had been benumbed. I realized that, in the seconds that elapsed between my father's call and my rising and going to the door. It may not have been actual hypnotism that Lee Chow was using upon me, but there was no doubt that in some manner he had imposed his extraordinary will power upon my frayed nerves and excited imagination, and for a few seconds had brought my will under subjection to his.

Whether that subjection would have lasted through the things he wished to say to me, I had no means of knowing. The efficacy of my father's voice in bringing me back to normalcy argued, I told myself later, that I was not as far under the influence of the iron will of the Chinese as he had believed me to be. Probably any startling statement from him, especially one that I resented, consciously or subconsciously, would have brought me back to myself.

A Timely Interruption

But there was no mistaking the reaction of Lee Chow to the interruption. For the fleeting fraction of a second his usually immobile face was distorted into rage, and a short, guttural explosive exclamation issued from his lips. But the next instant he was his old, suave self again, and bowed low to me as my father entered.

"I am afraid I have fatigued you unconscionably," he said, "and yet I am unwilling to close our interview until I find out from you the information which led me to seek you, and that is, what arrangements you are making for the coming of age of Mrs. Underwood's daughter, and what part you want me to play in them."

A Plausible Story.

What diabolical quickness and cleverness was his! I said to myself. He had said nothing tangible as yet which could be construed as a threat against my husband or my children; and he had just given to my father what to me was a most plausible reason for wishing to talk to

The two men, each as fine a representative of his own civilization as could be imagined, faced each other with steady, unflinching stares, and it was Lee Chow whose eyelids first lowered, and who stepped back, with a low bow to me.

"I am bowed to the earth with humiliation," Lee Chow said, with a reversion to oriental extravagance of speech not usual to him. "I can plead only my fear that the excitement of the wedding would drive

EXCEPTING FOR those in the employment of others or those holding places of power and authority, this may prove to be a quiet and routine day, according to the weak positions of the ruling planets. The former are justified in currying favor from superiors or those in high places, as promotion, preferment and honors are imminent. But in finances the outlook is rather hazardous, calling for conversation and caution.

Those whose birthday it is may have a fairly routine year in all affairs outside of employment, but in this there is promise of honors, preferment and favors from those in authority. But finances are not under an auspicious sign and there is need of conserving funds as well as shunning extravagance, loans and hazardous investment.

A child born on this day should be capable, ambitious and should win the attention of employers and those in high places, succeeding better in employ than in finances.

all other considerations out of Miss Marion's head, and, as I knew she was going back to school almost immediately, I felt that I must find out something definite in the matter."

I had pulled myself together by the time he finished speaking and from somewhere I pumped up the courage to answer his tacit query.

"Marion is not going back to school until tomorrow afternoon," I said. "I shall see both she and her mother in the morning, and arrange for a meeting for you if you like. Then you will be able to find out exactly what their plans are, and how to fit them into yours."

"That will not be necessary," he said hastily. "If they will just tell you what their plans are, that will be all that will be needed. I shall be glad to suit my convenience to theirs. And now, if you will excuse me, I will say good night, with many apologies for my thoughtlessness in so upsetting Mrs. Graham."

He bowed again and made his way with dignity from the room, leaving me staring at my father in wondering gratitude.

"How did you know I needed you so much?" I whispered.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 8—Dr. George T. Blydenburgh of Middletown, Conn., will head the department of student health at Ohio Wesleyan university here during the coming school year, it was announced Thursday by Dr. Edmund D. Soper, university president.

The new university physician was chosen out of a group of a dozen applicants for the position, which became vacant last June with the resignation of Dr. George D. Lowry.

Cure of physical ailments of Ohio Wesleyan students will be only a part of Dr. Blydenburgh's health program here, it was indicated. Emphasis will be laid instead on promoting health rather than to cure illness.

Perfidious savages

IN THE Torres Straits Islands in the East Indies, there are no trees suitable for canoe buildnig. So the natives, a cruel, treacherous race, import their canoes from the Fly River Delta in New Guinea—another place with an unenviable reputation. The distance between these two places is over four hundred miles, and no native in that region travels even one-quarter of that distance.

When a canoe is wanted, the word is simply passed on from tribe to tribe. On the strength of this vague order a canoe is built. Then it is relayed back. Each tribe of bloodthirsty cannibals tests and discusses it before passing it on. Finally the payment, shell necklaces, spear points, arm bands, makes its way to the canoe builders in the same leisurely fashion.

There is reason for this because in savages to whom perfidy is natural, if one of the parties in this complicated transaction [illegible] risk being dishonest, their very life would be ruined. And though these [illegible] and on each other, they hold faster inviolate.

PALACE BOOKS STAGE SHOW FOR 2 DAYS

Marcus Troup To Present Performances Today and Saturday.

The Marcus Show of 1933, the first big stage revue to be booked for Marion in the last four years, arrived here this morning for matinee and night performances today and Saturday at the Palace theater.

FLO DIDA, one of the Marcus show stars.

Two Pullmans carried the company of nearly 70 persons required to present the girl revue and a two-car train transported scenery and baggage. The show is, for size, one of the largest stage productions ever to appear in Marion.

"La Vie Paree" will be presented at the regular matinee and night performances. The show will offer two different and distinct productions during its two-day stay. A midnight show Saturday at 11:30, a two and one-half hour entertainment presented as "A Night at the Folies Bergere," will be entirely different from the preceding four performances, the theater management states.

The company carries its own orchestra, which will be augmented by members of the Palace theater orchestra.

On the screen during the two days will be "Cocktail Hour," a sophisticated drama featuring Bebe Daniels. The picture will not be shown at the midnight performance.

COURT NEWS

Sues for Divorce

Injuries that caused her eyes to become blackened and swollen and her lips to be cut and bruised are cited by Mrs. Helen Lucille Levien of Marion in her divorce petition against Wesley H. Levien, filed in common pleas court yesterday.

His alleged cruelty forced her to leave their home, she asserts. They were married here April 12, 1924, and are parents of two children, according to the petition. Sylvester Larkin is counsel for Mrs. Levien.

Divorce Granted

Divorce from Rosa C. Dennison was granted John Dennison of Marion in common pleas court yesterday by Judge George E. Scofield. Custody of their child was awarded to Mrs. Dennison's mother, on condition that Dennison can have custody of the child from Friday to Sunday, if he so desires. Dennison was ordered to pay $2.50 a week for the child's support.

Charges Denied

Homer Johnson, guardian ad litem for Mrs. Jeannette Hittenraugh, has filed an answer in common pleas court in the divorce suit brought against her by Harold E. Hittenraugh, setting up a general denial of his charges.

Appeals Ruling

Application of Mrs. Grace M. Elliott of Marion, administratrix of the estate of the late Ollie M. Riley of Marion, administratrix of the estate of the late Ollie M. Riley of Marion, to sell real estate of the late Ollie M. Riley has been carried to the common pleas court on appeal following refusal of Probate Judge Oscar Gast to allow the administratrix to sell the property.

In the original action in probate court, sale of real estate was sought by the administratrix to satisfy alleged obligations against the estate, including a claim of the Citizens' Building & Loan Co. Judge Gast held that the claim of the loan company was not a lien against the property, and refused the order. The administratrix is appealing to the common pleas court for authority to sell the property and pay the claims.

Named by Court

Kenneth A. Robinson has been named administrator of the estate of Emma M. Keil by Probate Judge Oscar Gast.

NEW ERA OF HEALTH SEEN

Famous Scientist Envisions End of Disease and Age Infirmities.

LONDON—A golden age when disease and even the infirmities of old age will be unknown is envisioned by Professor Jocelyn Field Thorpe, famous biochemist and member of the world renowned Institute of Chemistry.

Professor Thorpe expresses an optimistic view of researches that are going on in laboratories throughout Europe. Soon he declares, cancer and tuberculosis will be conquered not by the surgeon's knife but by [illegible]

"Disease will be almost entirely destroyed," the professor says, "when we have mastered all the secrets of nature's own system."

In laboratories throughout Britain, Germany and the United States scientists are engaged in researches undreamed of a few years ago.

We have learned that the secretions of certain glands have an all-important effect on the health of the body.

These secretions can be controlled by vitamins. [illegible] As more of our vitamins are known, research leads us to believe that there are a great many more than scientists in the past dreamed of.

"Insulin, for instance, has been discovered as a cure for diabetes and Vitamin C as a cure for [illegible] gets. But what is the vitamin will control the growth of [illegible] At the moment we do not know, but we are certain that [illegible]

The glands are responsible for every body ailment, whether it be [illegible] reption or ailment, the professor says. When a gland is discovered, [illegible] glands is found the secrets of [illegible] long, perhaps, [illegible] a matter of years only.

"At present we are [illegible] expect from the study of glands. [illegible] many [illegible] and what [illegible] are [illegible] we are interested."

Medical experts [illegible] be a [illegible] of the treatment of disease [illegible] and [illegible] the glands of animals [illegible] the [illegible] knife.

And yet I say that we are [illegible] the discovery of some of the great [illegible] covered the world has ever known.

"SO HAPPY THAT I TRIED ALL-BRAN"
Delicious Cereal Brings Relief From Constipation

If you have [illegible] of pimples and [illegible] or any other of the [illegible] effects of constipation, read this [illegible] letter:

"Since I have been eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN I don't have to take any [illegible] for constipation. How good it is and how much better it is for constipation than pills or any other medicine.

"I would never go back to pills. I used to take [illegible] Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is wholesome and healthful."—Mrs. John Schneider, 953 Tenth Street, Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Constipation is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of pills and drugs—so often habit-forming. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Bratt's Is Highlight

...was, as every... ...e a high spot in the show. With a whip, a chair and a gun loaded with blank cartridges, he made his famous lions and lions go through their paces while the spectators watched breathlessly and paled visibly at each snarl from the animals.

The audience was impressed with the smooth graceful artistry of "The Great Bombayo," on a bouncing rope. His work was a masterpiece of rhythm.

Fans who have been watching "Poodles" Hanneford, ace riding clown, and his family put on their act for years, enjoyed it just as thoroughly last night as the first time they beheld the tricky riding art of the famous comedian.

A long mount of 29 elephants was a thrill for the fans.

Rudy Rudynoff made a hit with his display of highly trained horses and "Cheerful" Gardiner, in charge of the elephants won well-earned applause for his work with the huge animals.

Aerialists Thrill

Trained seals, comedy jugglers and accomplished jugglers, the giraffe-necked woman from Burma, John Heliott's display of his trained ponies and dogs all contributed to the show.

The famous Bilettis, aerialists who performed without a net under the high wire and the Hills and Carmonians, trapeze artists, added their breath-taking part as one of the outstanding features of the show.

While the wild west rodeo was in progress and even before many of the circus fans could get off the lot the trucks and wagons began rumbling down Fairground street to the Garden City pike crossing from which the entire circus entrained shortly after midnight for Chillicothe, home town of Clyde Beatty, for a performance today.

NEW YORK—Like the man in that O Henry story who wanted to be arrested but couldn't arrange it Frank Guirassick, 29 tried everything from breaking windows to insulting cops but to no avail. He gave up the idea of living at the city's expense and dug himself a hole in Central park in which to sleep. "Three days digging in the prison yard" announced Magistrate Earl Smith in Yorkville Court.

How It Began

(Will Rogers Special)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Sept. 8—Most of us had the impression that the late big war was started all at once by Germany deciding it would be a good time to go through Belgium.

Well, do you know that this fellow that died Wednesday, this Englishman, Viscount Grey at that time was Britain's foreign secretary" Well, according to all official records that have been published, they had dozens of conferences and communications among all these nations for weeks (Also real Col. House's books.)

So according to all the dope, this fellow Grey had quite a time arranging the war. It looked for a while like he wasn't going to be able to put it on. Now I see where Lloyd George's book says the same thing. It's awful hard to get into a war without a diplomat.

Will Rogers

Pirates Maul Three New York Pitchers for 14-2 Victory

GIANTS' FLAG HOPES SERIOUSLY MENACED BY RAMPAGING BUCS

Lead Slashed To 5 1-2 Games With Tough Faes Ahead.

A series which started out as important only to the Pittsburgh Pirates, second place club of the National league, moved into its final stage today looking like a serious matter indeed for the New York Giants.

The league leaders, beaten in three of the first four games, had reached a position where they almost had to win the final clash in order to enjoy any degree of safety during the remainder of their western tour. Their margin of games at the outset, was reduced to 5½ by the 14 to 2 drubbing they absorbed yesterday. Another today would have given a slim working margin on which to tackle the games at Cincinnati, followed by a series against the Chicago Cubs and St Louis Cardinals, almost unbeatable on their home grounds.

Depends on Hubbell

The greater part of the burden of today's important game rested upon Carl Hubbell first of the Giants' big four to feel the sting of the Buccaneers bats.

Heinie Meine did a neat job of halting the Giants yesterday, giving them 10 hits including a homer by rookie Phil Weintraub, and pitching his way out of a few tight spots. But after the first inning the question was merely how much punishment the New Yorkers could absorb. Roy (Bud) Parmelee couldn't get the Buccos out. They blasted him from the hill with four straight singles, following a walk and a sacrifice to get three runs and made it 5-0 before Adolfo Luque managed to end the inning.

Luque went out before a four-run blast in the third. Lefty Watson Clark gave up a few more runs and Gus Suhr and Earl Grace nicked young Johnny Salveson for home runs in the sixth to leave the Giants thoroughly beaten

Cubs Drop Braves

The Cubs and the Cardinals also took a few cuts at the Giants' lead, winding up 6½ and 8½ games behind respectively. The Cubs edged out the Boston Braves 2-1 in a duel between Lon Warneke and Dutch Brandt as Gabby Hartnett did all the Chicago scoring and Warneke lost a shutout through Wally Berger's twenty-sixth homer.

The Cards walloped the Phillies 10-1 behind Dizzy Dean for their thirteenth consecutive home victory under Frankie Frisch and moved into fourth place, a half game ahead of the Braves.

Walter Beck gave the last place Cincinnati Reds their twentieth shutout of the season as an eighth inning rally against Red Lucas brought Brooklyn a 2-0 victory.

The New York Yankees finally nipped a game off Washington's American league lead as Lou Gehrig led them to a 12-8 victory over the St. Louis Browns while Chicago's White Sox beat out the Senators 1-0.

Philadelphia unveiled another rookie hurler. Johnny Marcum from Louisville, who gave up five hits and beat the Cleveland Indians 6 to 0. The Detroit-Boston clash was halted by wet grounds.

Strips of steel four feet wide and 140 long, welded together at the edges and suspended from the ends like bridge cables, form roofs for four grain elevators erected in New York state.

MAR ALLAH STABBED AT GRAPPLING MATCH

Injury Holds Up Announcement of Marion's Monday Show.

Fans in Benton Harbor, Mich. apparently take their wrestling seriously. According to word received by Harley Lewis, one of the promoters of the Monday night matches in Marion, Sheik Mar Allah, who has been appearing here frequently of late, was the victim Wednesday night of a stabber at a match in the Michigan city.

Allah, so information received by Lewis says, was critically wounded, being stabbed once through the neck and once through the kidney by an enraged spectator.

The stabbing of Allah has delayed the arranging of a match for Marion next Monday. The sheik had been scheduled to appear in the main go against Spike Ashby.

GASCO CLUB TO PLAY BUCYRUS NINE HERE

Eagles To Invade Lincoln Park Saturday at 3 P. M.

The Gasco club, newly crowned champions of Marion softball, will seek additional laurels in the next few weeks against some of the better teams in the district surrounding Marion. The first out-of-town foe will be met Saturday afternoon at Lincoln park when the Bucyrus Eagles invade the city.

The Eagles come here with an excellent record against teams in their home town. Emmet Lerch, who formerly lived in Marion and who did some twirling for the Gasco nine two years ago in the Gasco's first year in city competition may be on the mound for the Eagles although this has not been definitely announced.

The Marion club will start its usual lineup with Dale Schwaderer on the hill and "Rass" Young behind the plate.

The game is called for 3 p .m.

AMATEURS TUNE UP FOR NATIONAL MEET

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 8 —Steel and wood in expert hands swished through the air in practice again today at the Kenwood course where the nation's best amateur golfers, all eager to supplant C. Ross Somerville as title holder, gathered in preparation for the blue ribbon event of the year—the National amateur.

Approximately two-thirds of the field of qualifiers were on deck last night and the remainder are expected today.

George Dunlap of New York, former intercollegiate champion and member of the 1932 Walker cup team led the field yesterday with a sparkling 69, two under par.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha, Nebr., National open title holder, found the going a bit rough yesterday in his initial round and carded an ordinary 78. Somerville, also playing the course for the first time, finished with a 76.

CANZONERI GETS CHANCE TO REGAIN CROWN

BARNEY ROSS — TONY CANZONERI

Less than three months after losing his lightweight crown to Barney Ross of Chicago, Tony Canzoneri is getting a chance to regain his lost throne. The two meet at the New York Polo Grounds, Sept. 12, in a 15-round bout with the title at stake. It is the Chicagoan's first fight since he outpointed Canzoneri in Chicago in June. STILL HOPEFUL

Chicago Cubs, However, Can't Understand Failure on Road.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 8—Chicago's Cubs are still hopeful of landing that National league pennant but they can't solve their big mystery.

The mystery is why they can win so easily at home and lose so repeatedly on the road.

So far this year, they have won 45 and lost 15 at Wrigley field for a .750 average. On the road, they have won only 29 and lost 45 for a .392 average.

"It's a deep mystery to me," mused Manager Charlie Grimm. "I can't explain it, although we have lost a lot of tough ones on the road."

If the Cubs had just split even away from home they would be leading the Giants by a game and one-half today instead of trailing

HUDDLE DROPPED BY COACH BILL INGRAM OF CALIFORNIA BEARS

Coast Mentor Decides Open Signal Calling is Better System.

By The Associated Press

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 8 — To all the football world [illegible] Bluff Coach William Ingram [illegible] "the rest can stick to the huddle system, but California is going back on the good old signal [illegible] standard.

The brawny leader of the Golden Bears in his own words [illegible] to take the position of [illegible] back out of the moth[illegible] game it to its rightful [illegible] football.

"We are to-ing out the [illegible] this year," said Ingram. [illegible] Because I think the old dive [illegible] up and calling of signals [illegible] the open is a better system.

Prefers Brains

"Every coach to his own [illegible] I prefer a smart quarterback [illegible] will stand up there in the [illegible] figure the opposition and [illegible] signals, to having a stereotyped [illegible] reference of the team before [illegible] a play.

"Most of the coaches feel [illegible] huddle because they thought [illegible] simplified their offensive [illegible] I think this idea of a mass meeting before lining up weakens a team. Even if one player is designated to call the plays there usually are two or three others who have different ideas. When the strategy of one is questioned by another, it may waste that particular offense, either mental or physical way.

Speedier Thinking

Ingram believes signal calling in the open is the better method because it not only provides a few elements for real field generalship but it makes for speedier thinking on the part of the team as a whole.

"When the quarterback decides the play and calls the signals the rest of the players have about five seconds to visualize what's going to take place and what part they are going to play in it. As a result they are keyed up and tense [illegible] der the huddle system the [illegible] have a full 10 seconds before [illegible] tion takes place."

FAVORITES BEATEN IN COURT TOURNEY

By The Associated Press

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 8 — The national men's tennis championships dug out from under a storm today and prepared to carry on at Forest Hills, but they will never look the same.

Gone, as the quarter-final matches began was H. Elsworth Vines, Jr., champion of the United States for the last two years, victim of Bryan Grant, Jr., Atlanta, Ga.

Gone, also, was Wilmer Allison, Davis cup stalwart, swept from the tournament by Adrian Quist, the human hurricane from Australia. Both members of America's first line of defense went down in the course of as hectic a day as championships ever witnessed.

Four Contests Sunday in County Softball Tourney

Four more games are on the slate Sunday in the Marion county softball tournament at Lincoln park, L. L. Clendenen, promoter of the tournament, announced today. Two of the seven teams which will figure in Sunday's games will be making their first appearance in the tournament.

In announcing Sunday's schedule, Clendenen also announced substitution, the Babcock A. C. replacing the Underwood Poultry nine. The Underwood nine was withdrawn.

The first game Sunday at 1 p. m. will be between the Babcock A. C. and High's Radio Shop. Don Shoemaker is expected to do the twirling for the Radios, under the management of Fido Robbins.

Pleasant Township and the First Ward A. C. will meet in the second tilt, the loser to be eliminated from the meet. Eddie Mautz for the First Ward and Johnny Weiss for Pleasant are slated to do the pitching.

The Harruff Tires and Marion Pants will cross bats in the third. Paints will cross bats in the third the best of the day. Both have marked up one victory and both have strong lineups. Dale Schwaderer will probably be on the hill for the Paints with Maury Whitcum twirling for the Tires.

The Short Line Grocers will meet the loser of the Babcock A. C.-High Radios in the fourth and final start.

One hour will be allowed for each game.

FIRST WARD A. C. LOSES 2-0 CLASH

Pirates Maul Three New York Pitchers for 14-2 Victory

GIANTS' FLAG HOPES SERIOUSLY MENACED BY RAMPAGING BUCS

Lead Slashed To 5 1-2 Games With Tough Foes Ahead.

A series which started out as important only to the Pittsburgh Pirates, second place club of the National league, moved into its final stage today looking like a serious matter indeed for the New York Giants.

The league leaders, beaten in three of the first four games, had reached a position where they almost had to win the final clash in order to enjoy any degree of safety during the remainder of their western tour. Their margin of 7½ games at the outset, was reduced to 5½ by the 14 to 2 drubbing they absorbed yesterday. Another today would leave them a slim working margin on which to tackle five games at Cincinnati, followed by a series against the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals, almost unbeatable on their home grounds.

Depends on Hubbell

The greater part of the burden of today's important game rested upon Carl Hubbell, first of the Giants' "big four" to feel the sting of the Buccaneers' bats

Heinie Meine did a neat job of halting the Giants yesterday, giving them 10 hits, including a homer by rookie Phil Weintraub, and pitching his way out of a few tight spots. But after the first inning the question was merely how much punishment the New Yorkers could absorb. Roy (Bud) Parmelee couldn't get the Buccos out. They blasted him from the hill with four straight singles, following a walk and a sacrifice to get three runs and made it 5-0 before Adolfo Luque managed to end the inning.

Luque went out before a four-run blast in the third. Lefty Watson Clark gave up a few more runs and Gus Suhr and Earl Grace nicked young Johnny Salvesen for home runs in the sixth to leave the Giants thoroughly beaten.

Cubs Drop Braves

The Cubs and the Cardinals also took a few cuts at the Giants' lead, winding up 6½ and 8½ games behind respectively. The Cubs edged out the Boston Braves 2-1 in a duel between Lon Warneke and Dutch Brandt as Gabby Hartnett did all the Chicago scoring and Warneke lost a shutout through Wally Berger's twenty-sixth homer.

The Cards walloped the Phillies 10-1 behind Dizzy Dean for their thirteenth consecutive home victory under Frankie Frisch and moved into fourth place, a half game ahead of the Braves.

Walter Beck gave the last place Cincinnati Reds their twentieth shutout of the season as an eighth inning rally against Red Lucas brought Brooklyn a 2-0 victory.

The New York Yankees finally nipped a game off Washington's American league lead as Lou Gehrig led them to a 12-8 victory over the St. Louis Browns while Chicago's White Sox beat out the Senators 1-0.

Philadelphia unveiled another rookie hurler, Johnny Marcum from Louisville, who gave up five hits and beat the Cleveland Indians 6 to 0. The Detroit-Boston clash was halted by wet grounds.

Strips of steel four feet wide and 140 long, welded together at the edges and suspended from the ends like bridge cables, form roofs for four grain elevators erected in New York state.

Harding's Opening Grid Clash Two Weeks Away

Cheadle Drills Presidents at Rapid Pace, Preparing for Inaugural Against Mt. Vernon Here.

With an eight game schedule slated to start in just a day more than two weeks Coach Gerald E. Cheadle, Harding High school's new football mentor, is working his half a hundred charges at a dizzy [illegible] Mt. Vernon Yellow Jackets [illegible] play their [illegible] definite [illegible] grid [illegible] Going at Top Speed

The ask [illegible] has been a virtual [illegible] the [illegible] his charges at a rapid [illegible] candidates to report [illegible] practice. A few of the [illegible] regulars, but are expected to do so shortly.

The fact, however that several members of the squad have not been able to report regularly is not slowing down practice. Each morning Cheadle puts his proteges through a lengthy drill and calls them out again in the afternoon for another brisk session.

Squad Fairly Husky

The squad now working out contains a fairly husky lot of boys but indications are that Cheadle will place far more reliance on speed and deception than in any "beef trust" which he may be able to assemble. The squad as a whole does not weight as much as the one which represented Harding last fall.

There is nothing to indicate yet which boys will be called on to carry the Harding colors into battle in the opener against Mt. Vernon. Cheadle has three letter men and several other experienced boys in the harness but he has made it decidedly clear to all concerned that he is picking his team strictly on the basis of showings in practice.

Several inexperienced youngsters have been turning in surprising performances in the early practice periods, giving rise to the belief that several of the veterans are going to run into all kinds of difficulty in their efforts to win berths in the starting lineup.

Harding will play the usual four league opponents this season and has booked four other non-league tilts. The season will open against Mt. Vernon here on Sept. 23 and close Nov. 18 against Ashland on the out-of-town grid.

The schedule:
Sept. 23—Mt. Vernon at Harding
Sept. 30—Delaware at Harding
Oct. 7—Shelby at Shelby
Oct. 14—Bucyrus at Marion
Oct. 21—Findlay at Findlay
Oct. 28—Mansfield at Marion
Nov. 4—Galion at Galion.
Nov. 11—Open.
Nov. 18—Ashland at Ashland

Booster Club Asks Grid Fans To Greet Coach

Members of the Harding High school Booster club and any other persons interested in Harding football are urged to be on hand tonight at the Hotel Harding for the informal reception and get together at which Harding's new grid mentor, Gerald E. Cheadle will be the guest of honor. The Booster club officials have issued a request for all those interested to attend the affair and hope to have a large number of fans on hand to get acquainted with Harding's new football director.

The get-together will be held in the Marion club rooms. No speeches are scheduled for the meeting but it is possible one or two short talks will be given regarding the football prospects and plans for Harding. Booster club officials may also discuss plans for future activities.

MAR ALLAH STABBED AT GRAPPLING MATCH

Injury Holds Up Announcement of Marion's Monday Show.

Fans in Benton Harbor, Mich., apparently take their wrestling seriously. According to word received by Harley Lewis, one of the promoters of the Monday night matches in Marion, Sheik Mar Allah, who has been appearing here frequently of late, was the victim Wednesday night of a stabber at a match in the Michigan city.

Allah, so information received by Lewis says, was critically wounded, being stabbed once through the neck and once through the kidney by an enraged spectator.

The stabbing of Allah has delayed the arranging of a match for Marion next Monday. The sheik had been scheduled to appear in the main go against Spike Ashby.

GASCO CLUB TO PLAY BUCYRUS NINE HERE

Eagles To Invade Lincoln Park Saturday at 3 P. M.

The Gasco club, newly crowned champions of Marion softball, will seek additional laurels in the next few weeks against some of the better teams in the district surrounding Marion. The first out-of-town foe will be met Saturday afternoon at Lincoln park when the Bucyrus Eagles invade the city.

The Eagles come here with an excellent record against teams in their home town. Emmet Lerch, who formerly lived in Marion and who did some twirling for the Gasco nine two years ago in the Gasco's first year in city competition may be on the mound for the Eagles although this has not been definitely announced.

The Marion club will start its usual lineup with Dale Schwaderer on the hill and "Rass" Young behind the plate.

The game is called for 3 p .m.

AMATEURS TUNE UP FOR NATIONAL MEET

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 8.—Steel and wood in expert hands swished through the air in practice again today at the Kenwood course where the nation's best amateur golfers, all eager to supplant C. Ross Somerville as title holder, gathered in preparation for the blue ribbon event of the year—the National amateur.

Approximately two-thirds of the field of qualifiers were on deck last night and the remainder are expected today.

George Dunlap of New York, former intercollegiate champion and member of the 1932 Walker cup team led the field yesterday with a sparkling 69, two under par. Johnny Goodman of Omaha, Nebr., National open title holder, found the going a bit rough yesterday in his initial round and carded an ordinary 78. Somerville, also playing the course for the first time, finished with a 76.

Four Contests Sunday in County Softball Tourney

Four more games are on the slate Sunday in the Marion county softball tournament at Lincoln park, L. L. Clendenen, promoter of the tournament, announced today. Two of the seven teams which will figure in Sunday's games will be making their first appearance in the tournament.

In announcing Sunday's schedule, Clendenen also announced substitution, the Babcock A. C. replacing the Underwood Poultry nine. The Underwood nine was withdrawn.

The first game Sunday at 1 p. m. will be between the Babcock A. C. and High's Radio Shop. Don Shoemaker is expected to do the twirling for the Radios, under the management of Fido Robbins.

Pleasant Township and the First Ward A. C. will meet in the second tilt, the loser to be eliminated from the meet. Eddie Mautz for the First Ward and Johnny Weiss for Pleasant are slated to do the pitching.

The Harruff Tires and Marion Pants will cross bats in the third. Paints will cross bats in the third the best of the day. Both have marked up one victory and both have strong lineups. Dale Schwaderer will probably be on the hill for the Paints with Maury Whitcum twirling for the Tires.

The Short Line Grocers will meet the loser of the Babcock A. C.-High Radios in the fourth and final start.

One hour will be allowed for each game.

FIRST WARD A. C. LOSES 2-0 CLASH

The First Ward A. C. softball team dropped a 2-0 decision to the Walters & Disbennett team yesterday by a 2-0 score. Richards and Mautz allowed the winners four hits while the losers collected eight.

The First Ward nine will play the Short Line Grocers today at Lincoln park at 6 p. m.

WESLEYAN REDUCES GRID TICKET PRICES

Gauthier Announces Schedule of Cost for Football Ducats.

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 7.—The new state tax on sports will not affect patrons of Ohio Wesleyan's home football games it was revealed Thursday when announcement was made by Coach George Gauthier of sharp reductions in prices of tickets for the Bishops' home schedule.

The admission prices plus state and federal taxes will be less than they were last year when only a federal tax was charged, he said.

A top of $1.20 for reserved seats will be in effect for the Cincinnati, Miami and Marshall games on Nov. 4, 11 and 18, respectively, with 75 cents being charged for general admission. The tax is included in these figures.

For the Heidelberg game on Sept. 30 prices will range from a 60-cent low to a top of 83 cents, including tax, Gauthier said.

TRAINING PERMISSIBLE

Of interest to dog fanciers in Marion county and the surrounding territory is the recent ruling by Attorney General John W. Bricker. Bricker ruled that owners of dogs may train them at any time in the day or night provided game is not injured or killed.

CANZONERI GETS CHANCE TO REGAIN CROWN

BARNEY ROSS — TONY CANZONERI

Less than three months after losing his lightweight crown to Barney Ross of Chicago, Tony Canzoneri is getting a chance to regain his lost throne. The two meet at the New York Polo Grounds, Sept. 12, in a 15-round bout with the title at stake. It is the Chicagoan's first fight since he outpointed Canzoneri in Chicago in June. STILL HOPEFUL

Chicago Cubs, However, Can't Understand Failure on Road.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Chicago's Cubs are still hopeful of landing that National league pennant but they can't solve their big mystery.

The mystery is why they can win so easily at home and lose so repeatedly on the road.

So far this year, they have won 45 and lost 15 at Wrigley field for a .750 average. On the road, they have won only 29 and lost 45 for a .392 average.

"It's a deep mystery to me," mused Manager Charlie Grimm. "I can't explain it, although we have lost a lot of tough ones on the road."

If the Cubs had just split even away from home, they would be leading the Giants by a game and one-half today instead of trailing

HUDDLE DROPPED B[illegible] COACH BILL IMGRA[illegible] OF CALIFORNIA BEAR[illegible]

Coast Mentor Decides Co[illegible] Signal Calling is Bette[illegible] System.

By The Associated Press

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. [illegible] To all the football wor[illegible] bluff Coach William Ingram [illegible] "the rest can stick to the [illegible] system, but California is [illegible] back on the good old signal[illegible] standard."

The brawny leader of the [illegible] Bears, in his own words [illegible] "to take the position of [illegible] back out of the moth[illegible] raise it to its rightful [illegible] football."

"We are tossing out the [illegible] this year," said Ingram. [illegible] Because I think the old dope up and calling of signals [illegible] the open is a better system.

Prefers Brains

"Every coach to his own [illegible] I prefer a smart quarterback [illegible] will stand up there [illegible] figure the opposition and [illegible] signals, to having a group [illegible] ference of the team before [illegible] a play.

"Most of the coaches favor [illegible] huddle because they thought [illegible] simplified their offensive [illegible] I think this idea of a mass meeting before lining up works [illegible] team. Even if one player is designated to call the play in the huddle there usually are two or three others who have different ideas. When the strategy of one is questioned by another, it may waste that particular offense, either mental or physical way."

Speedier Thinking

Ingram believes signal calling in the open is the better method because it not only provides all elements for real field generalship but it makes for speedier thinking on the part of the team as a whole.

When the quarterback calls the play and calls the signals the rest of the players have about 10 seconds to visualize what's going to take place and what part they are going to play in it. As a result they are keyed up and tense under the huddle system the boys have a full 10 seconds before action takes place."

Gone, also, was Wilmer Allison, Davis cup stalwart, swept from the tournament by Adrian Quist, human hurricane from Australia. Both members of America's first line of defense went down in the course of as hectic a day as the championships ever witnessed.

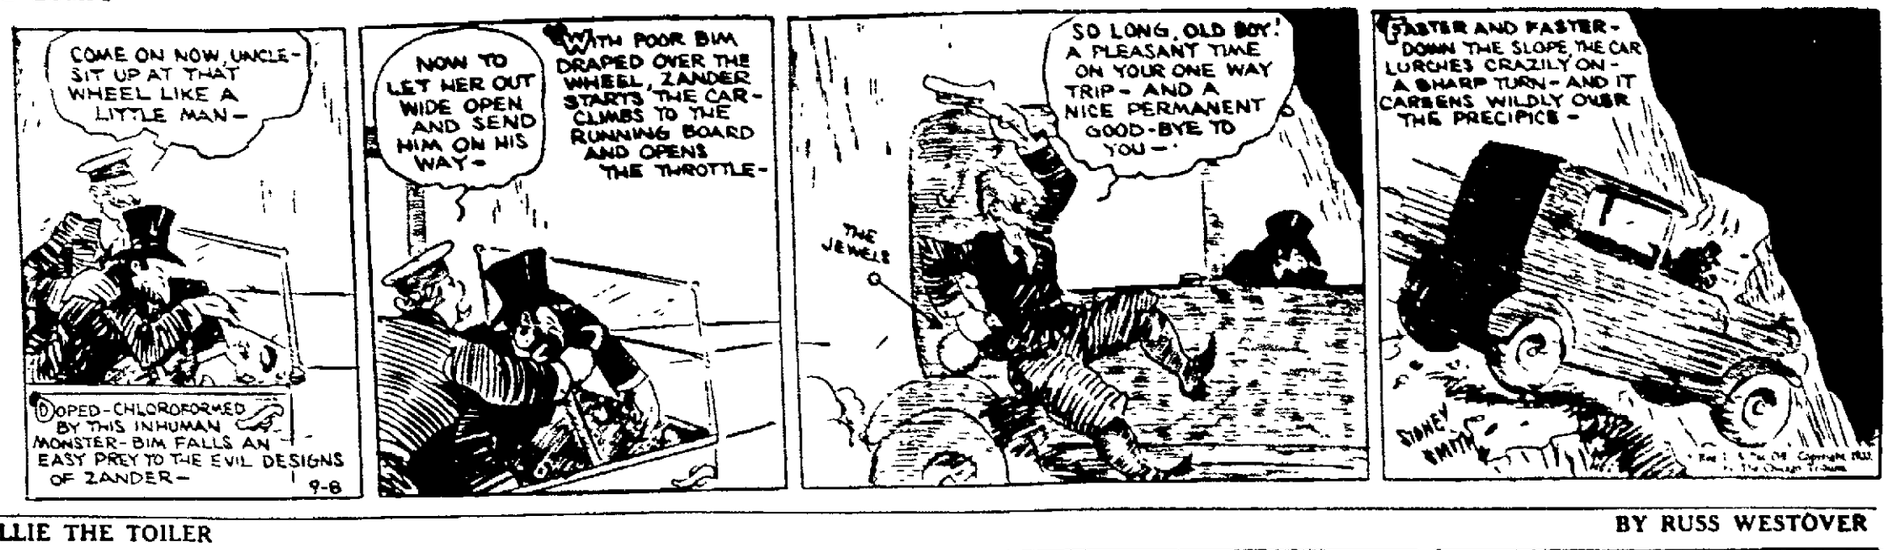
THE GUMPS

BY SIDNEY SMITH



COME ON NOW, UNCLE- SIT UP AT THAT WHEEL LIKE A LITTLE MAN-
DOPED-CHLOROFORMED BY THIS INHUMAN MONSTER-BIM FALLS AN EASY PREY TO THE EVIL DESIGNS OF ZANDER-
9-8
NOW TO LET HER OUT WIDE OPEN AND SEND HIM ON HIS WAY-
WITH POOR BIM DRAPED OVER THE WHEEL, ZANDER STARTS THE CAR- CLIMBS TO THE RUNNING BOARD AND OPENS THE THROTTLE-
SO LONG, OLD BOY! A PLEASANT TIME ON YOUR ONE WAY TRIP- AND A NICE PERMANENT GOOD-BYE TO YOU-
THE JEWELS
FASTER AND FASTER- DOWN THE SLOPE THE CAR LURCHES CRAZILY ON- A SHARP TURN- AND IT CAREENS WILDLY OVER THE PRECIPICE-

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Sept. 8—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

"Although the demand for wool was less pronounced this week than during either of the two preceding weeks, it is apparent that more than an average volume of business has been done, possibly 10 million pounds, at prices fully up to the top of a week ago. The price tendency is, if any thing, against the buyer."

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following quotations: Domestic—Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces: Delaine unwashed 33@34, ⅜ blood combing 33@34, ¾ blood combing 33@39.

WHEAT PRICES IN LATE GAIN

Better Class of Buying Support Causes Prices To Turn Higher.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 8—A better class of buying support for wheat than has recently been the rule became evident in the late dealings today, and the market advanced. The rise more than overcame early losses of 2 cents a bushel.

Improved demand for cash wheat as compared with futures had a strengthening influence. At St. Louis, red winter wheat which was recently selling at around 8 cents under Chicago December was reported today as now bringing December price or better.

Wheat closed unsettled ...% above yesterday's finish corn unchanged to ¼ higher, oats ...% up and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

ROSS AND CANZONERI BOTH MAKE WEIGHT

Lightweights To Have No Trouble With Scales Next Tuesday.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—Whatever their other troubles, neither Barney Ross nor Tony Canzoneri need worry about making the class weight for their 15-round lightweight championship match at the Polo grounds Tuesday night.

Loaded on the scales in the New York state athletic commission's offices yesterday, Champion Barney tipped the beam at 138 pounds, Canzoneri at 137, three and two pounds, respectively, over the class limit. Both had eaten hearty breakfasts and taken no exercise before they hopped on the scales so neither will have to do much work to shave off the excess poundage.

It was the first time in the history of boxing here that the principals in a title fight have been summoned before the commission for weighing and examination. Managers of both boys complained the trip to New York would interrupt training and asked that the examination and weighing-in take place in the training camps. The commission, however, preferred its own scales and its own offices.

YEARLINGS FAIL TO REWARD PURCHASERS

Throughbreds Fall Down in Efforts To Repay Purchase Prices.

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 8—Sixteen thoroughbred yearlings cost their purchasers $5,000 or more when sold at auction last year at the Saratoga sales or elsewhere. So far this season, not one of them has earned its purchase price.

The most expensive of all, the Triumvir, which cost the Greentree stable $14,500 for last year's highest price, has not yet won a race. He has earned only $200 by placing second in two races run over muddy tracks, and has been among the also rans four times on fast tracks.

On the other hand, the Greentree stable's Black Buddy, which cost $4,000, as a yearling is third in the two-year-old money-winning list with $25,580 won this year. F Burton's Wise Daughter, fifth in the winning list, has proven the best investment so far. Costing just $800 as a yearling, she has won $21,540.

PICKFORD ROMANCE IS BASIS OF SUIT

One-Time Marriage To Owen Moore Recalled in $250,000 Action.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—Echoes of the days when the Mary Pickford-Owen Moore marriage was terminating reverberated down the years to mingle today with the complaint of a graying actor who is suing the film actress for $250,000.

Edward Hemmer filed the suit, saying that in the old days he acted as foster father, adviser and business manager for the actress and members of her family. He says he is entitled to compensation.

He served a copy writ on Miss Pickford's attorney yesterday detailing the services which he said impelled him to sever his relationship with the Pickford family.

The document as quoted by the New York Herald Tribune said both he and Miss Pickford's mother "were violently opposed to the associations of the defendant with Douglas Fairbanks prior to her divorce from Owen Moore, and took a vigorous and determined stand in opposition thereto but nevertheless defendant persisted in associating with Fairbanks, although the wife of Owen Moore."

He said this led to such disputes between him and the actress' mother on the one side and Miss Pickford on the other that during the year 1922 the situation came to a climax and the plaintiff agreed to sever a long relationship that had existed between him and the Pickford family.

Hemmer says he was promised that Miss Pickford's mother would compensate him by a bequest in her will. No such bequest was made and upon the death of her mother, Miss Pickford received all of the estate, valued at $1,500,000.

The actor added he had been assured by Miss Pickford that if her mother failed to leave him a bequest she herself would pay him reasonable compensation.

GRAND JURY WILL REPORT SATURDAY

The September term grand jury probably will submit its report to Judge George B. Scofield in common pleas court late Saturday morning, Prosecutor Russell M. Wilhelm said today.

The jury had almost completed its work and will not reconvene until Saturday morning for a short session preparatory to the report to Judge Scofield. It inspected the county jail yesterday after finishing consideration of 15 cases.

To the Many Friends of the Marcus Show in Marion and Environs:
I PROMISE that in offering you my special Midnight Frolic (commencing at 11:30 tomorrow night) you will see a distinct novelty; a performance such as is associated with the name of Texas Guinan or the gay resorts of Paris, the like of which has NEVER BEFORE BEEN SEEN IN MARION.
I PROMISE that, despite Rain or Shine, the Bad Place or High Water, A NIGHT AT THE FOLIES BERGERE will be presented in its Unabridged and Unexpurgated form. I WARN, that a NIGHT AT THE FOLIES BERGERE is a sophisticated night club form of entertainment for ADULT THEATERGOERS and that, to avoid criticism, CHILDREN UNDER SIXTEEN WILL NOT BE ADMITTED.

PONCE DE LEON NEVER FOUND THE FOUNTAIN OF LIFE (the cure for auto intoxication). Philosophers, Scientists, Chemists have for ages sought in vain for a reliable BODILY ELIMINANT of SELF POISONING (AUTO-INTOXICATION) So called mineral waters and fakers with their herbal compounds soon become ancient history of so called failures. Youth would never turn into old age, if a perfect cure was ever found and OLD AGE would rapidly turn back to YOUTH. Among many symptoms that indicate one having chronic AUTO INTOXICATION: Eyes become dim Hearing is dulled. Gait unsteady Skin becomes unnatural in color and Wrinkles appear. If above symptoms come on rapidly just a few years of LIFE can be expected The patient in time becomes so clogged with INTERNAL FILTH that they usually die with Heart Trouble Paralysis, Apoplexy, or Bright's Disease Often they become Rheumatism or Neuritis There is hope in LOWER'S HEPATIC TRITICUM. People come for miles around for this remedy After using it eyes become clear, hearing improved as one customer said "It was like coming out of a cave into sunlight" perfect health Our claim on HEPATIC TRITICUM in our observation is the best ELIMINANT of AUTO INTOXICATION now sold on the American market Sold by LOWER'S PHARMACY, Center and Leader st.

WHEAT PRICES IN LATE GAIN

Better Class of Buying Support Causes Prices To Turn Higher.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 — A better class of buying support for wheat than has recently been the rule became evident in the late dealings today, and the market advanced. The rise more than overcame early losses of 2 cents a bushel.

Improved demand for cash wheat as compared with futures had a strengthening influence. At St. Louis, red winter wheat which was recently selling at around 8 cents under Chicago December was reported today as now bringing December price or better.

Wheat closed unsettled ... above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ½ higher, oats ... up and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

ROSS AND CANZONERI BOTH MAKE WEIGHT

Lightweights To Have No Trouble With Scales Next Tuesday.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—Whatever their other troubles, neither Barney Ross nor Tony Canzoneri need worry about making the class weight for their 15-round lightweight championship match at the Polo grounds Tuesday night.

Loaded on the scales in the New York state athletic commission's offices yesterday, Champion Barney tipped the beam at 138 pounds, Canzoneri at 137, three and two pounds, respectively, over the class limit. Both had eaten hearty breakfasts and taken no exercise before they hopped on the scales so neither will have to do much work to shave off the excess poundage.

It was the first time in the history of boxing here that the principals in a title fight have been summoned before the commission for weighing and examination. Managers of both boys complained the trip to New York would interrupt training and asked that the examination and weighing-in take place in the training camps. The commission, however, preferred its own scales and its own offices.

YEARLINGS FAIL TO REWARD PURCHASERS

Throughbreds Fall Down in Efforts To Repay Purchase Prices.

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 8 — Sixteen thoroughbred yearlings cost their purchasers $5,000 or more when sold at auction last year at the Saratoga sales or elsewhere. So far this season, not one of them has earned its purchase price.

The most expensive of all, the Triumvir, which cost the Greentree stable $14,500 for last year's highest price, has not yet won a race. He has earned only $200 by placing second in two races run over muddy tracks, and has been among the also rans four times on fast tracks.

On the other hand, the Greentree stable's Black Buddy, which cost $4,000, as a yearling is third in the two-year-old money-winning list with $25,580 won this year. F. Burton's Wise Daughter, fifth in the winning list, has proven the best investment so far. Costing just $800 as a yearling, she has won $21,540.

PICKFORD ROMANCE IS BASIS OF SUIT

One-Time Marriage To Owen Moore Recalled in $250,000 Action.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 8—Echoes of the days when the Mary Pickford-Owen Moore marriage was terminating reverberated down the years to mingle today with the complaint of a playing actor who is suing the film actress for $250,000.

Edward Hemmer filed the suit, saying that in the old days he acted as foster father, adviser and business manager for the actress and members of her family. He says he is entitled to compensation.

He served a complaint on Miss Pickford's attorney yesterday detailing the situation which, he said, impelled him to sever his relationship with the Pickford family.

The document as quoted by the New York Herald-Tribune, said both he and Mrs. Pickford's mother "were vigorously opposed to the associating of the defendant with Douglas Fairbanks prior to her divorce from Owen Moore, and took a vigorous and determined stand in opposition thereto, but nevertheless defendant persisted in associating with Fairbanks, although the wife of Owen Moore."

He said this led to such disputes between him and the actress' mother on the one side, and Miss Pickford on the other that during the year 1922 the situation came to a climax and the plaintiff agreed to sever a long relationship that had existed between him and the Pickford family.

Hemmer says he was promised that Miss Pickford's mother would compensate him by a bequest in her will. No such bequest was made and upon the death of her mother, Miss Pickford received all of the estate, valued at $1,500,000.

The actor added he had been assured by Miss Pickford that if her mother failed to leave him a bequest, she herself would pay him reasonable compensation.

ESTATE Gas Ranges with the Famous Fresh-Air Oven.

See what inventive genius has done to simplify the getting of meals and to cut cooking cost for the Tired Housewife!

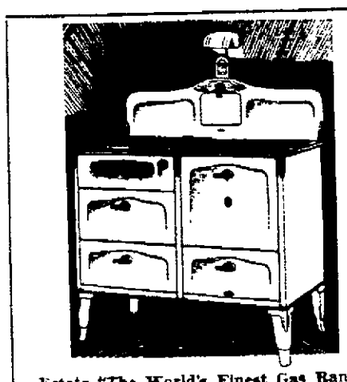
In the new Estate Gas Range, with its Fresh-Air Oven, you can bake a cake without ever shifting a pan or even looking at the baking from the time you put it in until you take it out. Just set the ThermEstate Oven Heat Control, then forget about it until the electric alarm clock on the range calls you back to the kitchen.

You can cook a whole meal in the oven while you are miles away from the kitchen. A recipe book, with menus and recipes for a number of delightful all-oven dinners, comes with the range. You can keep that "cool-girl" complexion, even in the midst of busiest days in the kitchen. The heavily insulated oven holds all the heat where it belongs—saves gas, too.

When small portions of toast are wanted, you needn't light the oven burner full tilt or mess around with a table toaster. There's a small-portion toaster in the mantel or splasher back of several of the new Estates.



Estate "The World's Finest Gas Range"

Broiling—the most wholesome way of preparing meats—is FUN in these new ranges. Just pull out a drawer, raise or lower the rack mechanically. No smoke—no catching fire! And when the meat has been cooked, place the lower pan on the cooking top and make your gravy.

There are many more features of economy and convenience, too numerous to describe in an ad. So come in soon—see these wonderful new ranges. You really can't afford to go along with an antiquated range that robs you of time, spoils precious food, uses more gas than is necessary.
